Twenty-Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time

I give you a new commandment, says the Lord; love one another as I have love you.

With a vengeance, the forgiven servant says to his debtor fellow servant, "Pay back what you owe." In so doing, the ingrate refuses "mercy to another like himself." However, "the vengeful will suffer the Lord's vengeance, for he remembers their sins in detail." And that is the one thing we hope with all our heart that God will forget. The "math" of mercy is very simple: "forgive your neighbor's injustice; then your own sins will be forgiven." How else dare we "expect healing from the Lord?" thus, "None of us" is to "live for oneself"; rather, "we live for the Lord" and by the Lord: the "Lord of both the dead and the living" will endow us with the power to forgive others as he himself does.

Margaret RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Help make our program Awesome – Volunteer Today!!

We are looking for a few more individuals to join the Religious Ed team by helping teach a class or volunteer for planning and/or prepping of activities and events. If you are unsure of how you might be able to help, contact Gina to discuss the needs of the Religious Ed Program. If you have any ideas or concerns regarding the continued growth of the program, we want to hear them. All Parishoners can pray for the growth and needs of the program and for the volunteers that support our parish and make it possible for us to offer Religious Education to the children and families of our parish.
